WHAT ARE CUSTOM VINYL DECALS?

These label products have two liners, often referred to as "premask". One liner on the front and one on the back with the decal in the middle. When you apply them, the back is peeled off the decal, applied to a surface, and then the front liner is removed carefully leaving only the letters, cut-out logo or graphic behind.

The front liner allows you to place the decal as one piece on the surface while protecting the custom cutouts of the design. See examples above.
